

NSEAD SEAD

Spring Term

Network Meeting:

Using Technology in Art & Design - Exploration and further CPD opportunities

The next NSEAD:SEAD (South East Art & Design) Network Group Meeting will be held in collaboration with Queen Mary University of London

Date: Saturday 30th March 2019 at Queen Mary University of London, London.

Venue address: School of Electronic Engineering & Computer Science, Queen Mary University of London, London, E1 4NS

(Link: <https://goo.gl/maps/Bkz8Yaq8QH52> )

Aims of the session:

- Exploring the role of digital technologies in teaching art and design (hands-on workshops and discussions), with follow-up CPD and opportunities to participate in digital research work/school based activities in partnership with Queen Mary University.
- Spring Term SEAD Network meeting – Brief National NSEAD news update. NSEAD Advocacy, Digital guidance, Data Guidance, Future Priorities and National Conference.
- Developing a new leadership team for SEAD and future SE Network planning.
- Please note, the programme will focus on new technologies relevant to the development of teaching art and design and career progression in visual technologies. This may be particularly suited to those teachers wishing to explore digital technologies for motivating boys and their visual learning.

Programme:

We will be based in the School of Electronic Engineering & Computer Science

From	To	What	Notes
10:45		Arrive	Grab a coffee on your way
11:00	12:00	tiny toys (Ready-built software: demo and explore)
12:00	12:45	Lunch break	Bring your own or e.g. Sainsbury's opposite Queen Mary Uni.
12:45	1:45	Processing (Visual coding: demo and explore)
1:45	2:30	What CPD do you need? Who, when, where, what & how!
2:30	3:00	Break	Grab a coffee e.g. Starbucks
3:00	4:00	Art and Design Association update and future planning meeting

Refreshments are available locally in a variety of café's/shops. Those attending may wish to bring their lunch in with them, or choose to 'pop out' to pick something up during the lunch break.

Activities will be led by: Ged Gast and Jane Lisa Waite: Research Student, IOC & Communicating and Teaching Computing

For your information: There is a relevant current exhibition at the V&A - Videogames: design/play/disrupt Explore the design and culture of contemporary videogames
On now until 24th February 2019. <https://www.vam.ac.uk/exhibitions/videogames>

---

This Network Meeting is due to start at 10.45am and will run until 4.00pm.

There is no charge for attending this NSEAD SEAD Network Meeting, consequently refreshments are not provided throughout the day, but there is a Starbuck's and express Sainsbury's nearby.

Travel by public transport: to Whitechapel station, Stepney Green or Mile End tube.

To access the Meeting: The nearest tube is Stepney Green. From here walk towards Mile End Tube - so west along Mile End past Globe Road, Mile End Place and then take Bancroft Road on your left. Then take the next left down a small alley before the Bancroft Road Teaching rooms (on your left). Then snake around Godward Square (as there are build works in the middle of the square) to the ITL room. There will be someone at the ITL entrance, who will let you in and also someone out on Bancroft Road to help people find the snicket.

The meeting will be in building 5 (see map below) which is called the Informative Teacher Laboratory (ITL).

To book a place:

Please contact Anne Ingall at NSEAD by 25th March: anneingall@nsead.org

This will ensure a place is booked for you and your information is sent to the venue, so you can gain admission.

You are welcome to:

- Learn from each other – Please bring information to share or network/distribute.
- Engage with the programme – you are encouraged to bring a sketchpad, drawing materials and camera/camera phone.

You are welcome to contact me directly at: g.gast@btinternet.com

We look forward to seeing you at the Meeting.

Ged Gast and Charlie Salter